Comments:

We started advertising with Cartvertising right as the COVID-19 pandemic hit and things were being shutdown. I figured that the advertising I had just signed up for would be a lost cause and I would be writing it up as a loss. Not only has business picked up during the pandemic, but my busiest month I can remember was the first month after our ads went on the carts. I think that one of the most important benefits is that our neighbors have seen our ads and are reminded about our business. While they know I was an attorney, the ad reminded them that I have a business. I have seen an increase in referrals from my neighbors during this time.
